

The CND Daily Nail 9.15.11 Hematite Nails at Naeem Khan

September 15, 2011 – CND celebrated the last day of Spring 2012 New York Fashion Week with a final show that spotlighted dark, urbane nails. This season, manicures were in a heightened state of bliss – in lucite, gold foiling, high shine gray, and glam styles:

At Naeem Khan, Wanda Ruiz crafted “Hematite Nails” for manicures and pedicures using saturated concrete gray CND Colour in Asphalt finished with Super Shiney Top Coat for a lustrous look. This sophisticated almond shape accentuated elaborately twisted buns and gorgeous red carpet-ready gowns on the runway. To get this look at home, try the brand new CND Shellac in Asphalt, which guarantees mirror shine for two whole weeks!

Stay tuned for CND’s upcoming “Final Nail” trend report!

To read Jan Arnold’s daily backstage blog, visit <http://cndfashionweek.com/Spring2012> and check out CND’s Fashion Week Tumblr at <http://cndfashion.tumblr.com/>.

For more information, expert interviews or photos, please contact RED PR.
Julia Labaton at 646.528.3969 or Julia@red-pr.com
Rachel Cooper at 212.431.8873 or Rachel@red-pr.com